Elvis and the Little Bird

By
Lili Guerrero
One day, a dog named Elvis was sitting in his bed. He was looking out the window and he wondered what was out there. It was a cold, rainy day.
When nobody was looking he ran out the door and escaped!
He ran quickly and happily through the rain. Then Elvis saw some colorful birds. He chased them all the way to the park.
One very clever bird flew to a garbage can. He got some food from the trash. He put down one treat at a time and Elvis followed along eating each delicious treat.
When the little bird ran out of treats, both he and Elvis were safely back at Elvis' home. Elvis' family was so happy to see him.